

CIVIL DEFENSE, FISH AND GAME, REAPPORTIONMENT TOP STATE MATTERS SAYS SEN. WILLIAMS

Civil defense, reorganization of the division of fish and game and reapportionment of the state assembly and federal congressional districts, are getting top attention in the state of California, according to State Senator J. Howard Williams, Porterville, who is now at home following the first part of the 1951 legislative session that closed last week.

Senator Williams says that in the first 16-day period, 5,167 bills were introduced. State legislators are now in a constitutional recess, in which they have an opportunity to talk over pending legislation with the people of their districts, prior to reconvening of the legislature March 12.

Concerning civil defense, Senator Williams says that the state is awaiting action by the federal government, however, it is anticipated that California will be asked to raise its own funds for a defense program. In this event, a new source of revenue will have to be found, says Senator Williams, since only a relatively small amount of accumulated funds now exists in the state.

Actually, the state is moving ahead on civil defense through provisions of a civil defense bill that Senator Williams introduced and carried through the legislature in 1950. A provision of this bill was the earmarking of part of the so-called "rainy day" fund for civil defense use.

Cost of the state's civil defense has not been determined as yet, however, Senator Williams agrees with Governor Earl Warren that the cost must be met and that the

Jersey Cattle Club Will Plan Tri-County Sale

Plans for a tri-county, spring sale will be discussed by members of the Tulare County Jersey Cattle club at a meeting of the organization to be held Monday evening, February 5, at Bartlett school in Porterville.

Ronald Carr, secretary of the club, will tell of plans for the sale, which will include consignments from Jersey breeders in Tulare, Kings and Fresno counties.

Indications are that about 60 head of registered Jerseys will be offered, consisting mostly of heifers and young cows. The sale is tentatively scheduled for the Tulare County Fair grounds, in April.

In addition to sale plans, other matters of the general club business will be discussed at the Monday night meeting.

Chamber Joins Farm Safety Move

Porterville chamber of commerce this week joined forces with the Tulare County Farm Safety council to assist in cutting down rural accidents in Tulare county, where the farm accident rate tops any county in California.

Chamber President Earl Hodgson states that a chamber committee will be named to work with the county council. Farmers interested in participating on the chamber of commerce committee are asked to contact Mr. Hodgson, or telephone the chamber office, 286, Porterville.

Calling All Dogs

Dog vaccination clinic will be held at the Porterville City Fire station on Saturday, February 3, from 9 A.M. until noon. Vaccination and licensing of all dogs in the county and city areas is mandatory, however, Ralph Gunderson, chief of the county division of sanitation, reports that only one-third of the dogs in the city of Porterville were vaccinated at earlier clinics. After March 1, a delinquent penalty fee of $1 will be added on each dog license issued.

OLIVE INSTITUTE FEBRUARY 10

Annual Olive Growers' Institute will be held in the Lindsay high school auditorium, Saturday, February 10, according to an announcement this week by Farm Advisor Karl W. Opitz, with the program to open at 9:30 A.M., with a luncheon at noon and with adjournment slated for 4:30 P.M.

Speakers on the morning session will include: C. E. Scott, Extension specialist in plant pathology, "Olive Knot Disease;" Dr. E. M. Stafford, division of entomology, University of California, "Research in Olive Scale Control." Dr. P. H. Leach, bureau of adult health, state department of public health, "Proper Handling of Parathion;" Dr. H. T. Hartmann, division of pomology, University of California, "The Alternate Bearing Problem."

Appearing in the afternoon sessions, to begin at 1:30 P.M., will be: Earle Houghton, manager of Lindsay Ripe Olive company and chairman of the olive research committee of the California Farm Bureau federation, "Ripe Olive Prospects in the Market Today;" Richard W. Henderson, manager of the olive advisory board, "Activation of the Olive Advisory Board."

L. B. Williams, director of the California Foods Research institute, "Advertising Ripe Olives;" David A. Keith, manager of the Lindsay Procurement association, "The Labor Situation" and Mr. Opitz, "Olive Orchard Management."

Meeting, Finally (Editorial)

The bungling board of the Porterville Veteran's Memorial district has decided to meet again — next Monday, February 5. To the best of our knowledge, the board has not met for two or three months and the unjustifiable condemnation suit to acquire Sinarle property on Olive street, for a building site, is still pending. We wonder how long the people of this community are going to sit placidly by and let this board fumble along, collecting tax money as it goes.

PACKERS?

Fate of the Porterville Packers is still undetermined. In a meeting last week, some 60 stockholders offered to assist financially in getting the Packers going for the 1951 season, however, directors have made no concerted drive for funds as yet. As indicated at last week's meeting, about $8,500, in addition to some $1,500 on hand and a deposit with the Sunset league, will be needed to field a team.

QUIZ WINNERS

Kenley Mays, Clarence Kays, Raymond Caldwell and U. A. Hatfield, finishing in that order, won top honors in the 1951 Farm Cooperative Marketing quiz contest held this week at Porterville high school for third and fourth year agricultural students. These four winners will compete with other Tulare and Kings county chapter winners in a sectional contest at Porterville, February 21.

TO BULL SALE

F. R. Farnsworth, White River, will take a pen of three of his Ace-Hi bulls to the annual Red Bluff Bull sale, set for February 10. He will be accompanied by Ralph Jones, Porterville Short-horn breeder, who will do some "shopping around" for breeding stock on the trip. They plan to leave early next week.

SOUTHEASTERN TULARE CO. IRRIGATION DISTRICTS WILL NAME DIRECTORS WEDNESDAY

Farmers throughout southeastern Tulare county will go to the polls next Wednesday, February 7, in their respective irrigation districts to elect directors and other officials.

In the Porterville district, where certain problems are being discussed in relation to whether land lies east or west of the Friant Kern canal, two directors-at-large will be elected. Maurice Henderson, whose property is west of the canal, and Ira Anthony, east of the canal, both incumbents, are being opposed by Edwy Luker and H. H. Hutchinson, from west of the canal.

CITRUS PEST CONTROL WILL BE DISCUSSED

Four meetings to discuss citrus pest control will be conducted during the week of February 4 in the southeastern Tulare county area under direction of H. C. Meith, farm advisor.

The schedule, as announced by Mr. Meith, is: Lindsay, Thursday, February 8, 10 A.M., Lindsay Farm Labor Procurement association on East Tulare road; Strathmore, Thursday, February 8, 2 P.M., Strathmore Cooperative Citrus association.

Porterville, Friday, February 9, 10 A.M., Vandalia Elementary school and Terra Bella, Friday, February 9, 2 P.M., Terra Bella Elementary school, kindergarten building.

Subjects and speakers will include: Herman French, Tulare county deputy agricultural commissioner, "Report On The General Condition of Scale Insect Infestations;" Dr. W. H. Ewart, division of entomology, Citrus Experiment station, "Report On Research Work In Tulare County On The Control Of Citricola Scale and Trips."

Bill Shilling, entomologist, California Fruit Growers Exchange, "Discussion Of New Pests And Questions" and Mr. Meith Tulare County Extension service, "A Summary."

All interested persons are invited to attend the meetings. Similar sessions are slated for Orange Cove, Woodlake, Ivanhoe and Exeter in the north section of Tulare county's citrus producing district.

U. A. Hatfield Heads 4-H Club

U. A. Hatfield has been elected president of a newly-organized Springville-Success 4-H Electricity club. Other officers are: Bill Pixley, vice president; Will Hatfield, secretary; Karen Mays, reporter and Kenley Mays, chairman of refreshment committee.

C. M. Pixley told of program for the club, at the organization meeting held at the Pixley home. Fourteen 4-H club members attended; regular meetings will be held the fourth Monday of each month.

CHEST FOLDS

Porterville's Community Chest, that included the general area of southeastern Tulare county with exception of Terra Bella, was disbanded at a meeting of directors, Monday. Although the Chest increased the number of contributors by more than a third this year, total collections were only 53 per cent of a budget of some $17,000. Available funds will be distributed to participating agencies.

Other board members whose terms do not expire at this time are: R. M. Parks, Norman Castle, both west of the canal, and Art Falconer, whose property lies on both sides of the canal.

Polling place will be the district office, with poll open from 11 A. M. to 6 P. M.; on the election board are Russell Morrison, Johnny Kotchevar and Mrs. John Marshall.

In the Lower Tule River Irrigation District, Incumbents Harrington Brown Division 2, and William Silvera, Division 4, are running.

District Acts To Benefit Area East Of Canal

Aimed at benefitting the agricultural area east of the Friant-Kern canal is action taken by directors of the Porterville Irrigation district in purchasing land and rebuilding the ditch near the head of Porter slough so that full flow of water will run in the slough.

During the fall and winter, and at present, the slough is carrying considerably more water than in any recent year, and directors of the Porterville Irrigation district report that land owners both east and west of the canal have stated that they are receiving benefits from this water in the form of rising water tables and higher water levels in wells.

Directors also worked with the Tule River Water Users Association in making repairs to get the Tule river back in its channel following the November flood. Future plans call for improvement and repair of the slough ditch, also for improvement of seepage areas where water can be put into the ground by percolation.

Heavy Rains

Rainfall in the mountain and foothill areas of southern Tulare county is nearly twice as heavy as last season, however, snowpack is light, according to data from quarters in Porterville.

Sequoia National Forest head- During this week's storm, the Hume lake area received .28 inches of precipitation for a season total of 24.37 inches, compared to 14.89 inches last year. Hot Springs got .37 inches to bring season total to 17.53 inches compared to 9.80 inches last year and at Johnsondale, .22 inches brought the season total to 19.58 inches.

In Porterville, storm total from the Daybell station was .46 inches and official temperature Tuesday night was 28 degrees. At the 8,000 foot level in the mountains, snow pack is now only 40 to 48 inches.

CLOUD SEEDING

Three cloud seeding flights were made for the Southern Sierra corporation the afternoon and night of January 18.

"Yankee" is going to be quite a production, covering 33 years calls for some spectacular costumes. Richard Deacon spent all day in Los Angeles on just costumes and wigs. PUPILS IN the fourth grade class at the Strathmore Union Elementary school lay face down during a recent drill on atomic defense preparation in the school. This scene is typical of schools throughout Tulare county. The drills are part of an educational campaign being taught by the county schools office in cooperation with the Tulare County Disaster council. Mrs. Augusta Maloy, teacher of the class, discusses the drill with Jay Bessey, school superintendent; Harold G. Rainwater, County Disaster Council commander; Dr. Burt Kebrie, of the county schools office who is in charge of the educational plan and J. Post Williams, County Schools superintendent, all of whom inspected the drill procedure.

YOUNG PUPILS in the first grade at the Strathmore Union Elementary school receive instruction in first-aid and self-protection from their teacher, Miss Virginia Phillips, who demonstrates on a young student, Dale Jackson. The instruction is part of an educational campaign in the school designed to reduce possible casualties by 70 per cent should an atomic bomb ever fall on Tulare county. County disaster council officials and officials of the county schools system say that Tulare county is the first county in the entire San Joaquin valley to institute such a campaign.

War Prisoners Must File Claim Prior To March 1

Poultry, Egg News: Economical, Good, Easy To Serve

Egg production this February is expected to be at a high level and of excellent quality.

Normally a rapid increase in supplies at this time results in a lower price to the housewife. Normally Midwestern eggs would be moving into the Western market in February to further build up the supply.

So far, "Normally" is not the usual this year. However, the situation should be watched closely... something might turn out normally after all.

Fish For Lenten Plentiful, Economical

Frozen Fish Fillets

The stocks of frozen fillets in cold storage on December 1, 1950, were about 39 million pounds compared with 30 million pounds a year earlier, when holdings were above a 5-year average.

Continuing in heavy supply are cod, haddock, pollock, lingcod and rosefish (ocean perch). The Fish and Wildlife Service suggests oven fried fillets as a tasty way of preparing fish fillets.

Shrimp (Fresh and Frozen)

Shrimp is generally available in much larger quantities than previously. Frozen shrimp stocks were 30 percent more than at the same time in 1949 and 50 percent above average. A good lenten dish suggested by the Fish and Wildlife Service is Shrimp Newburg.

Canned Tuna

Canned tuna is in heavy supply from the large 1950 pack — over 7,000,000 cases were packed in California, compared with about 5,500,000 cases in each of the two previous years. Other Pacific Coast States also packed substantial quantities.

Canned Mackerel

A Pacific Coast mackerel pack of 1½ million cases makes this generally inexpensive canned fish a particularly good protein food buy. The Fish and Wildlife Service suggests a mackerel salad.

"Polenta" Corn Meal Best For Flavor

Polenta, coarse ground, 'Indian' corn meal is the best stuff you've eaten... if you like corn flavor.

For tamale pie, nothing else can come near it in flavor. It is ground just a little finer than baby chick feed... maybe not quite that fine. So remember that it'll absorb a lot more moisture than regular meal.

Mrs. Prandini, out at the Italian Cash Grocery told me about it... she was right when she said you didn't know how good tamale pie could be until you'd used Polenta.

Use plenty of grated cheese and olives in your tamale pie and you can cut down on the meat you'll need... just as nourishing and a lot less expensive.

Rug Gyp In L. A. Better Shop Here

Seems a store in L. A. that does a huge business in floor coverings and furniture advertised in the Sunday Times that they were having a half price sale on hooked rugs. The "Half-price" they quoted was just seven dollars and a few cents higher than the regular Porterville price on the same rugs!

GRAPEFRUIT BUYING

Grapefruit decayed in any degree is not desirable. Usually the flavor is affected. Decay sometimes appears as a soft, discolored area on the peel at the stem end or "button" of the fruit; or it may appear as a water-soaked area, much of the natural yellow color within the area being lost and the peel being so soft that it breaks easily on pressure of a finger.

GOOD FOOD VALUE

Sweet potatoes are exceptionally nutritious. In Civil War times, hard pressed troops short of rations found they could live indefinitely on sweet potatoes alone. The Japanese on Owinawa could not have held out as long as they did without sweet potato patches that could be raided at night for food.

SWEET POTATO QUALITY

Good sweet potatoes are smooth, well-shaped, firm and of bright appearance. Badly mishapen potatoes, and those with growth cracks and wireworm injury are usable but wasteful.

Watch for any decay, which spreads rapidly. Decay may appear as soft wet rot, or dry, shrivelled, discolored and sunken areas, usually at the ends of the tuber.

Another form of decay appears as dark circular spots.

Sweet potatoes that appear damp may have been bruised or frozen, or may be wet from adjoining decayed potatoes.

BOOK SHELF

By DOROTHY MARGO

THE SCHOLAR ADVENTURES, by Richard Altick, should once and for all lay to rest the old saw about scholars being dull and dusty characters. Here is a book that tells how these men and women travel the world, when their finances permit, enlisting the aid of scientists, astronomers, doctors, relatives, and anyone else who might possibly have information bearing on the author or book they happen to be tracking down at the moment.

That moment sometimes lasts for a lifetime, as they exhaustively search for new facts, and acquire information that corrects an old and established fallacy. Their ability to detect forgeries made a hundred years ago, to discover that the Brontes wrote hundreds of tiny books, in a microscopic script, which were the basis of some of their later masterpieces, to determine that Byron, contrary to popular legend, did NOT have a club foot, are a few samples of the gigantic feats of industry and intellect performed by these detectives of literature. All who read this book will be enriched not only by the knowledge gained concerning many authors and their works, but also by a fuller understanding of that generally obscure person, the Scholar. The Scholar, who after his regular working hours, spends endless time and patience unearthing and clarifying a lost or forgotten past.

Mr. Altick has taken what is usually considered a dry subject and made it lively and extremely entertaining. This is the kind of book one would like to keep around the house to read and re-read, for it is impossible to digest and retain all that this volume has to offer in one reading.

Linen "Dusters," Pastel Colors, And Flowered Hats. Whee

New clothes viewed by local buyers in San Francisco this last week promise plenty of springiness.

Pink will be the most predominant color. All the pastels are most popular. Hats are almost solid with flowers and most of them have very narrow brims.

A new idea is linen dresses (lots of linen this year) with a "duster" like coat of the same material as the dress. The dresses are the same slim ones you've been hearing about, but the matching coats are very full with three-quarter or shorter sleeves.

New Silhouette Slim, Trim, With Stoles Increasing

The new silhouette tends to the slim, trim lines, even in swim suits. Sometimes, relieved by low-placed hemline flounces or ruffles, or by tunics of varying lengths, in the main, the sheathed figure is the one that will receive prominence.

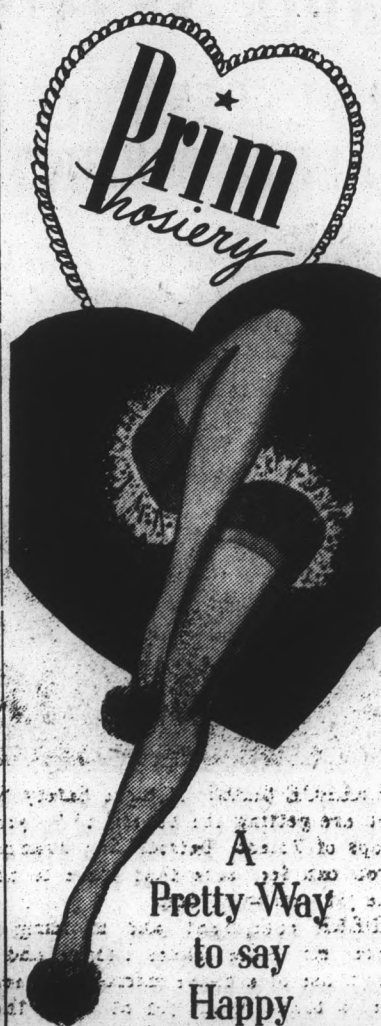

Again the sleeveless dress or blouse, or strapped camisole shows the preference for the bare shouldered look.

Stoles are more popular than ever, and come in matching or contrasting fabrics, as well as in novelty knits, to be used with sundresses as well as with cocktail clothes. In fact, some of the sundresses are so cleverly designed, they can be worn as either day or after dark fashions.

GLAMOUR WINDOWS

News in window blinds . . . there is now beauty as well as utility. Window blinds printed with wall-paper-like designs are now available. You can have them made to order and they are pretty as pictures.

They come in floral patterns, stripes, scenic designs, and children's patterns. At last somebody found a way to cover a window with glamour! The best way to have blinds installed is in chanel. The chanel protect the edges of the blinds and allow you to hang curtains without bumping the blinds.

Some old ones will be removed, some changed, some put in. The result will be heaven! This time, we're going to have the meters just right. Reminds me of Marie planning for a wedding. When you get the invitations and announcements from BREY'S BOOK SHELF they are always perfect. There's no chance of having anything wrong. Marie makes sure in the first place. She lends the book, "Wedding Etiquette Complete" to you and you can be sure the whole affair will be perfectly right. When you say "Yes," see Marie next . . . 600 N. "D" St. . . lots of free parking. The best place to buy wedding and shower gifts as well as Valentine gifts.

Another good spot, if you have said "Yes" or want someone else to . . . the source of ideal Valentines . . . real heart melters . . . is EDWARDS PHOTOGRAPHY STUDIO. This is positively the last minute to call 1385-J for an appointment. They'll take evening appointments too. Already, the news reports shortages of man-power, now's the time, gals, grab one before they become too short in supply.

Tuesday, when it was so bitterly cold, man told me his father who works at the road camp said it had been snowing all morning there. I did NOT ask him why his father worked there . . . and I don't think it's any of your business either! I'm just glad I took my old irrigating shoes into CARROLL'S SHOE SHOP, Division and Putnam, and had the drafts eliminated from them. They're big enuf to hold thick wool sox as well as my feet . . . let it snow! Don't have cold feet . . . get Mr. Carroll to make your shoes warm and comfortable. When your feet are uncomfortable . . . you're miserable all over.

Only gossip, I can't prove it . . . if it's true . . . I extend my deepest sympathy to Dr. Cox. Mumps ain't funny! Let's talk about pleasanter things . . . f'rinstance, how to save money. Specials this week at Mrs. Steif's PORTERVILLE PRODUCE at Orange and C Sts. All bunch vegetables, green or root, 2 for 15c; Solid lettuce, 10c a head; Cauliflower, 20c a head; Yams, 3 lbs., 25c lug $1.25; Onions, 6 lbs. 25c; Potatoes, 100 lbs., $1.95; Cabbage, 4c lb.; New Red Potatoes now too; Red "Delicious" Apples, 3 lbs., 25c, $2.50 a box; Golden "Delicious" Apples, 2 lbs., 19c, $2.50 box; "Pippins" 2 lbs., 19c; Oranges, 25c doz.; Lemons, 35c doz.; Grapefruit, 5c each; Bananas, 2 lbs., 29c; Elegant New Rhubarb just arrived too; and Pink and Pinto Beans for cold weather meals, 2 lbs., 25c.

Greatest moaning I've heard about the wage and price freezes was from a store clerk. She wasn't worried about wage freezes as you'd expect . . . she was overcome at the thought that she might have to go around again and change all the hundreds of price marks she'd just finished changing! All these markings and re-markings are taking the merchants to the cleaners . . . so to speak . . . about to break them in labor bills and no more profit for them! Only cleaning worth getting took to is PROCTOR'S CLEANERS, Putnam and 4th. They give your clothes perfect attention and "Retexturing" free. That is a process that puts the "new" quality back into the fibers of the material. You can't afford to miss taking all your cleaning to Proctor's.

With food prices, especially meat, what they are . . . you'd better get one of those cookbooks the Cowbells put out. Those gals who grow the meat at home know how to use every edible smitchen and you can learn from them how to use the less expensive parts too.

what parts? Well, I talked to a woman the other day who took a dollar bill to the store to get a pound of ground round . . . she came home with the 1 lb. of meat and 4c! The Cowbells know about some less expensive cuts than that . . . I promise you! The kitchen is no longer a work room. With the new Youngstown Kitchens at BREY WRIGHT LUMBER CO. you get convenience, step-saving, extra space for storage and efficiency. They turn kitchens into recreation rooms. Ask for a free estimate today.

All these government regulations . . . each breeding a new batch to uphold, explain, or enforce the others remind me of what by Grandmother used to tell me about lies. She always said the first lie wasn't so bad as a falsehood . . . it was just that you were forced then to keep on making up new ones to give substance to the others! Government regulations, lies, and rabbits . . . all alike, it isn't the first one that does the direct damage . . . it's the endless chain.

Enuf of that sad talk. Have you started getting your new spring clothes? Remember what I said about getting your permanent before you start all those tryings on? You'd better decide about a new hat and a new hair styling all together. FLORENCE PEAK'S BEAUTY SALON, call 107-W, offers you the best in hair styling and permanents. Ask about the Don-O-Wave, three operators there so you can always get an appointment.

Foot Rot Treat With Sulmet

FOOT ROT or infectious pododermatitis of cattle, is an infectious disease of the feet and claws. The same organism that is found in calf diptheria, Actinomyces Necrophorus, has been recovered from cases of foot rot. It is a potential hazard wherever sheep are kept, but it is particularly prevalent during wet seasons, or in sheep kept in filthy feed lots or wet, swampy pastures. Certain conditions, such as wet, muddy corrals or feed lots, and foot injuries, including wire cuts and bruises, seem to predispose cattle to infection. While foot rot seldom causes death, infected animals usually lose weight since they may be too lame to get about and feed.

THE OLD DAYS

From miscellaneous files of pioneer Porterville newspapers, provided through the courtesy of Howard J. Frame, Porterville.

NOVEMBER 27, 1891

As the dry weather still continues with us, many are making ready to put their ditches in repair. A company of lower Tule citizens are clearing out the slough near the junction of the stream, so as to fill the canal leading to their farms.

Business seems to be good in all branches, and with some rain for the farmers, everyone would be busy and happy. Feed for stock is scarce, as so many thousands of acres in the plains are already seeded.

(From the Weekly Tulare Register) The Farm View Press in Porterville is being packed up for removal to Tulare, where, under new management, it will be used to publish the "Citizen" in the interest of the alliances and reforms in politics.

As O'Clancy is talking of being with us, also in editing a sheet called the Tulare Examiner, we will scarcely notice the removal of the machine shops from here.

A number of Portervillians find upon going to Visalia to pay their taxes, they are way short. One man who paid $90 last year finds $174 against him this year, without his being perceptibly richer.

Charles Nesbitt's horses, attached to the milk wagon, took fright and ran away the other evening, scattering things lively and wrecking the harness.

Dr. Chapman has his new drug store trimmed up nicely with new carpets.

J. A. Crabtree and B. Springes made another shipment of turkeys this week, as also have many others.

Word has been received of the marriage of Frank O. Putnam and Ona Wilson at San Jose a few days since.

P. C. Montgomery has his windows filled in a most artistic manner with holiday goods and toilet articles.

A Kansas school teacher has been studying artificial rainfall and claims to have discovered chemicals that will bring the necessary moisture every time. As he has not yet converted any desert into a swamp, some allowance must be made for the enthusiasm of the beginner.

Mrs. Dr. Boucher has been visiting friends in Tulare.

It is reported that wild ducks are not as numerous in the lake country this year as heretofore, and some of the pot hunters are drawing off to await a big rain.

If there was an attempt to hold up the southbound train at Pixley last Saturday, the matter was well hushed up, but by such course the detectives seem to have accomplished no more than when the entire country was aroused and every man who could get a horse took to the trail. Somehow, the persons who know how to capture train robbers are not so numerous as they once were.

(Hiram S. Maxim in Century) For many years, engineers and scientists have admitted that navigation of the air is certain to come as soon as a motor is discovered which would have sufficient energy in proportion to its weight. This motor has been found, its power has been tested and its weight known. It would therefore appear that we are within the measurable distance of a successful machine for navigation of the air, and I believe it is certain to come within the next 10 years, whether I succeed or not.

20 YEAR'S EXPERIENCE BACKS SIDES SAFETY SERVICE WORK

WHEN CLARENCE SIDES, of Sides Safety Service, works on your car brakes, you are getting the benefit of 20 years of experience in major brake shops of Toledo, Detroit, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Seattle, and you can feel sure that there is no guess work in connection with the job you want done.

USING MODERN equipment, and utilizing the "know-how" gained by experience, Mr. Sides makes linings and drums fit from the start and through use of a brake micrometer, sets shoes in their exact position. After a brake repair job at Sides, there is no "wearing in" period - the brakes are right from the start.

IN ADDITION to brake work, Mr. Sides specializes in wheel balancing, using a Bender dynamic wheel balancer that will turn a wheel and tire at 120 miles per hour. When, through proper balancing, a wheel runs smooth at this speed, you can be assured that your car wheels are in proper balance for ordinary driving.

INCIDENTALLY, Mr. Sides states that most new tires are out of balance. He points out that one ounce out of balance, becomes equivalent to 16 pounds at a speed of 80 miles an hour, consequently, even new tires should be balanced in order to get maximum wear and driving ease.

AND FOR longer tire wear and for "right driving," wheel alignment should be correct, shock absorbers should be working properly and the front end of your car should be in top condition -- things that Mr. Sides is also experienced in taking care of.

COMING TO California in 1948 from Seattle, Mr. Sides, who is married and has two children, decided that Porterville was a good location for a brake servicing shop. Since he could find no place to stay, he bought a house the day he arrived, then established his business. Along with brake service, wheel aligning, front end work and wheel balancing, Mr. Sides handles Texaco products at his shop and station, 1007 North Main, in Porterville.

CIVIL DEFENSE

state must continue to operate on a balanced budget.

Considerable "horsetrading" is indicated in political reapportionment within California, resulting population increases as indicated in the 1950 census. California will get seven additional congressmen and state assembly district boundaries will be reshuffled to equalize representation on a population basis.

Senator Williams, who is working to bring increased representation to the agricultural area of Tulare county and of the southern San Joaquin valley, is a member of the State elections committee that will hold hearings on reapportionment.

Concerning fish and game, Senator Williams was a member of a group that met with Governor Warren last Thursday to discuss reorganization of the division of fish and game. Both the fish and game commission and the state legislature agree that reorganization of the division of fish and game is needed, however, there is some difference as to methods. At present a decision is being awaited from the state attorney general as to whether or not the state legislature has authority to set up the office of wildlife administrator for the state. (More about this in Fin, Fur and Feathers column.)

Senator Williams stresses the importance of a continued balanced budget in California. He says that if new services are demanded from the state of California, a means must be provided for financing these services.
